FEMALE BINGO Fun facts/hints/Brain Teasers

- Delilah was made popular by Tom Jones in 1967. It is really about a crime of passion although we probably didn't realise when we sang along with gusto! The Welsh rugby fans have used this song since the 1970's (Tom Jones is Welsh) as their unofficial anthem.
- 2. Goodnight Irene is an American folk standard written by "Leadbelly" a blues singer in 1933. He sang it throughout his career but a sanitised version was released after his death in 1950 by a white folk group called the Weavers. It became a huge hit. Several verses reference suicidal fantasies "sometimes I take notion to jump in the river and drown".
- 3. Sweet Caroline Neil Diamond 1970. Diamond at one stage claims it was written about the teenage daughter (Caroline Kennedy) of JFK but on other occasions he has said he wrote it about his then wife Marcia Murphey. Sweet Marcia didn't fit the music so he changed it to "Sweet Caroline".
- 4. Lili Marlene is a German Love Poem written in 1915. Lili was a composite of the author's girlfriend (Lili) and his comrade's girlfriend (Marleen). The music was composed in 1938 but it didn't become popular until 1941. This song was popular with both the Allies and the Germans.

- 6. Maggie many people think this is Irish but it was in fact a poem written by a Canadian school teacher about his pupil Maggie Clark. They later married but she died soon after. The poem was put to music after her death and the first recording of it is 1905. This song has now been performed by countless artists all around the world.
- 7. Peggy Sue was made famous by Buddy Holly in 1957. The Crickets (band members) were not mentioned on the label on the release although they were responsible for writing the song. It was originally called Cindi-Lou but later changed to Peggy-Sue after the (future) wife of one of the composers.
- 8. Sadie the Cleaning Lady (a British novelty song) was John Farnham's first single in 1967. John has the distinction of being the only Australian artist to have a number one record in 5 consecutive decades (echoing that of Sir Cliff Richard in UK).

This song is performed by 16 year old Andrew Strong from the Irish film "The Commitments" (1991) who made it a hit once again. A Mustang is also a wild American horse and a WW11 plane.
- 11. Tammy 1957 from the film "Tammy and the Bachelor" starring Debbie Reynolds.
- 12. Mona Lisa This song was made famous by Nat King Cole in 1950 as it was used in the film "Captain Carey, USA". The title and lyrics refer to the famous Renaissance portrait of Mona Lisa painted by Leonardo da Vinci (1503). The actual painting is about the size of the iPad screen and it is housed in the Louvre in Paris.
